

F2 International will continue the business with new strength!

You may be aware from the press reports that F2 International GmbH was adjudicated insolvent and that insolvency proceeding were opened by the decision of the Salzburg Court dated 24th of April.

On the 3rd of July the creditor union accepted the quote offered and F2 International GmbH is therefore fully operational again from today onwards!

MAG AG (www.mag.at) is the new owner of F2 International GmbH and Gerald Pascher is operating as a managing director.

Despite suffering over the last few months F2 is now looking great for the future. A complete restructure of the management has left the company in a much better position to react quickly and flexible to the market needs.

F2 needs to thank its employees and customers for their support in these last months. We are looking optimistic for a future and hope to bring F2 back on track soon.

Kind Regards

Gerald Pascher
